

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

REPORT OF SECRETARY OF STATE.

OFFICE OF SECRETARY OF STATE,
SPRINGFIELD, OCTOBER 1, 1883.

To His Excellency, RICHARD J. OGLESBY, Governor:

I have the honor to submit herewith my fourth and last biennial report.

The fees received by this department for the last two years and turned into the State treasury have been more than were ever received in the same time before, aggregating $21,229.34.

My predecessor reported that in the eight years of his term, he turned in a little less than $48,000. At the end of my term I will have received and turned into the State treasury nearly $84,000. The balances on hand of all appropriations in this department were never so large as at this time. No deficiency appropriations for any purpose will be necessary, but there will be sufficient left to carry the department until the appropriations made by the next General Assembly become available.

The following table will show the annual amount appropriated, and the balances on hand of each item:

PRINTING.

This year there is over $24,000 on hand in the item for printing. This is unusual, as heretofore there has only remained on hand at this date from $8,000 to $10,000. This is caused by the fact that about $14,000 is in litigation between the Commissioners of State Contracts and the contractor for printing on the contract let in 1886. The appropriation was made for this $14,000, but was never paid, pending action of the courts, not yet determined.

Letting the contracts for printing has caused the commissioners much perplexity. The law fixes the maximum rates, which were supposed by its framers to be a reasonable compensation for the work to be done, and as near as the commissioners could ascertain, about the prices charged the general public. The lowest bid, less than these rates is a legal bid, and, to be rejected by the commissioners, must be done arbitrarily, and without the knowledge that a lower bid will be offered. In order that those who desire may understand this question, I give the maximum rates fixed by law and the prices at which the contract of 1888 was let for first class printing, which includes only the bills of the General Assembly. The rate fixed by law for figure work is 90 cents; rule and figure work, $1.20; plain composition, 60 cents; press work, per 100 impressions, 25 cents. The price at which this contract was let this year was, figure work, 15 cents; rule and figure, 35 cents; plain composition, 25 cents; 12 cents per hundred impressions for press work. Nearly the entire contract of this class is in plain composition.

Experience has proven that printers will do this work for these very low prices. I would, therefore, recommend that the maximum rates as they are now in the law, be reduced at least 40 per cent.

The work done under the contract of 1886 amounted to about $42,100; there was paid on that contract, $28,000, in round numbers.

The subjoined table (pages 8 and 9) will show the amount of work done and the cost under the contract.

BINDING.

There is a large balance remaining in the item for binding, for the reason that there being little printing, there was less binding than ever before. The annual reports of some of the departments were not bound, but if the Commissioners hereafter shall order their printing and binding under this contract, the annual appropriation of $10,000 will all be needed.

PRINTING PAPER AND STATIONERY FUND.

It will be seen from the table that there is a large amount on hand in the printing paper and stationery item. This also arises from the fact that there was less printing done, consequently there was not so much printing paper purchased. The contract is let for 3,500 reams, and usually more is ordered at the same price, but under the last contract, the 3,500 reams were not consumed. It will be necessary to appropriate but $12,500 per annum instead of $15,000 as heretofore.

HEATING.

The last appropriation for heating was $15,000 per annum, of which there is on hand $11,499.88. The appropriation was increased by the last General Assembly from $10,000 per annum to $15,000. This increase was necessary from the fact that there are now three elevators in the building, a high pressure of steam being kept up all the year round in order to make them available, whereas, when I took charge of this department, there were no elevators in the building at all, and very little coal was consumed in warm weather.

The completion of the lower story of the State House was followed by the occupation of every room by some department of the State, all requiring to be heated. During the session of the legislature there are six engines connected with the ventilation of the building, which require a high pressure to be maintained at the boiler house in order to run the engines at so long a distance from the boilers. For these various causes, the expenses of this department were necessarily increased, and there will not be any less needed for the succeeding two years.

The contract for coal was let at a less price per ton ($1.35) than ever before.

REPAIRS TO STATE HOUSE.

There was an appropriation of $20,500 made for repairing the dome, cornices at base of dome, repairing roof to building, for grading and repairing sub-basement, for sewerage State House, for repairing outside wall damaged by fire, all of which was done in the most perfect manner possible, and $3,189.57 undrawn.

The dome on the State House has been leaking and sheets of zinc blowing off almost from the day it was first supposed to be completed. The last Board of State House Commissioners recommended an appropriation that would have been sufficient to have changed the style of covering and fastening completely, but the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds of the last legislature, after consulting with experts, decided to adopt a plan there presented and repair the same. Their plan was fully carried out, and I am confident that there will be no more trouble with the dome for years to come.

The repairs in the sub-basement have added another story to the building almost as large as any above it excepting the room taken up by the foundation of the dome. The floors of all the rooms have been cemented and graded to a level, openings cut through from one room to another, and good substantial doors placed in the openings, affording to the different departments, a dry, safe place, in which the accumulation of papers from year to year can be stored.

The sewerage has been constructed in the most perfect manner, using the best of material, and putting in place traps that were not heretofore in the building at all. Four of the down spouts of the roof were carried into the south end of the sewer which will flood the same its entire length at every sufficient rainfall.

There was an appropriation of $10,000 for repairs at the heating department, of which $542.74 was not used. The boilers of this department were put in place more than fourteen years ago, and were used as low pressure boilers, simply for heating and had done service longer than it was usually considered safe, and would not do for high pressure boilers, and were set in the manner that prevailed at that time. Now there are nine new first-class steel boilers with mud drums and appliances of the most modern character, and four of the best of the old boilers, all set in a manner to give the best results for the amount of coal consumed. In fact, except in the coldest weather, there is a surplus of boiler capacity.

The only expenses for years to come that will be required in connection with this department will be the replacing of some of the steam pipe that is hidden in the walls of the building, and were not renewed, which are constantly requiring repairs. The pipe itself will not cost very much, but the great portion of the expense will be the cutting out and replacing of the walls in order to reach it.

THE INDEX DEPARTMENT AND STATE DOCUMENT LIBRARY.

When the State Library was removed to its present location, I determined to occupy the room vacated, with the State Document Library, for which it was originally intended, and to consolidate with it the Index Department, the two being closely allied in object and purpose. This has been done, and now the index clerks, together with the indices and the printed State documents, are located in the room used for the State library before its removal to the third floor. This arrangement, it seems to me, is a wise one from any point of view. The printed documents, as they become rare and old, become very valuable, and, as a consequence, it is a matter of necessity that the more important volumes, such as the session laws, the journals of the General Assembly, the volumes of the legislative and department reports and the Supreme Court Reports, be kept under lock and key, or beyond the reach of the public, to prevent loss. The lock cases in the document library were exactly suited to this purpose, and, with a few exceptions, which were taken out to make room for the clerks, they were left standing, and the printed documents required by law to be kept in the library for the use of the State are now in these cases, to be safely preserved for future use and reference, as the law contemplates they shall be.

It is a matter for congratulation that the State is in possession of so nearly a complete collection of its own printed documents. The sets of the session laws since the organization of the State government is complete, although there are one or two sessions of which there are but one or two copies. Many of the earlier volumes of the laws have been recovered by purchase, but at reasonable prices. A few of the journals of the earlier sessions are missing, but with care in keeping a lookout for them, it is probable that they can all be recovered and the collection completed. It is much to be desired that they will be, for the political history of the State depends mainly upon its legislative documents. The publication of the volumes of the legislative and department reports, in separate volume, was begun in 1838-9. Prior to that date they were printed in the journals of the General Assembly. A full set of the reports as published have been preserved to date.

It is much to be regretted that the original records of the State Department are incomplete. Among the missing records is the journal of the proceedings of the Convention which met at Kaskaskia in August, 1818, and framed the Constitution under which the State was admitted into the Union. The enrolled copy of the Constitution as signed by the members of the Convention, except one who died during the sitting of the Convention, and whose name cannot now be learned, is preserved and in excellent condition. The journal of the Senate for the second session of 1819 is also missing. The State has neither original or printed copy of the journal of the Senate for that session, nor can it be learned that there is a copy in existence anywhere. Every effort has been made to recover for the State these valuable historical records, but without success as yet. When the work of restoring the missing volumes of the laws, journals and reports was undertaken by the Index Department, these documents were in a deplorably incomplete condition. The success which has attended the effort of restoration of these volumes has been so far beyond expectation that I am inspired with the belief, the hope at least, that one or the other of my successors will recover these lost records and complete the records of this office.

At the date of my report two years ago, the clerks of the Index Department were engaged upon the indices to the Executive records for the period during which the Constitution of 1848 was in force, viz: from April, 1848, until August, 1870. The indices for this period have been completed, and like all similar work done by this department, has admirably fulfilled its useful purpose. In addition to the completion of the work in hand, referred to above, during the two years covered by this report, much other valuable work has been accomplished in overhauling, properly classifying and systematizing the old files, letters and papers in the office. All of the official correspondence, the Executive files, the appointments and all of the legislative files have been gone over.

These old files, in the course of years, had become so disarranged and in such confusion that it was impossible to tell anything about them. They are now properly classified, and while as yet the papers have not been indexed, as it is intended they shall be, they are in such a shape that, when necessary, reference to them can be had without much loss of time.

For six months of the year 1888, the time of the clerks of the index department has been almost wholly taken up, and at times, indeed, the demand has been so great that all could not be promptly attended to, in furnishing information in answer to inquiries on account of the journals of the 35th General Assembly not being printed. The printing of the journals of the 35th General Assembly was not begun until the first of October, 1888, when the new printing contract took effect. This was too late to be of any use during the exciting political campaign just closed, and the demand for information from the record has been constant and urgent.

Much new, radical and important legislation was enacted during the sitting of the 35th General Assembly. The record of members has been scanned with unusual severity and closeness. In the absence of the printed record, it is easy to imagine the demand that was made upon the Secretary of State. These inquiries were referred to the index department for research and answer, and one not familiar with the matter can have no correct idea of the labor necessary to answer satisfactorily the numerous inquiries made, from the original record which, of course, is without an index.

I am not disposed to exaggerate the value and importance of the index department, and, as I shall soon retire from this office, after an eight years incumbency, I can not be charged with any selfish motive in speaking of its usefulness. The Secretary of State is the legal custodian of the more important archives of the State government. He is under heavy bonds for the safe keeping of the files and records in his charge.

The more important files are the original laws, the journals of the General Assembly, the journals of the Constitutional Conventions, the original copies of the Constitutions themselves, the executive files, election returns, correspondence, appointments, and so forth. He is the custodian of the official bond of every public officer in the State, except his own, from a notary public to the State Treasurer. They range in amount from $1,000 to $500,000, and aggregate high up into the millions. The more important records are the executive records, the election records, the records of appointments, etc.

In the nature of things the Secretary of State can not give his personal attention to the safety and security of the files and records of his office, the value of which can not be measured in money. The whole time and attention of his chief clerk is taken up with other duties. He must then rest his responsibility and quiet his concern as to the absolute safety of these papers somewhere. He must feel assured that they are not exposed to mutilation, defacement, loss or destruction at any time. The fact is, and it can not well be otherwise, that while the Secretary of State is the legal, the index department is the actual custodian of the original papers, records and documents of his office, and by the consolidation of the State document library with it, also becomes custodian of the printed documents as well. Nor does the responsibility end with their safe keeping and preservation.

The papers in this office are continually being referred to and constantly being added to. They require constant watching and careful handling to prevent misplacement and confusion.

A good clerk is not always a careful, orderly and systematic one, and all these traits are necessary in handling and using official papers. They must be placed in the special charge of some one whose particular business it is to see that they are carefully handled and returned to their proper place among the files. The index department was created, and exists, among other things, for this purpose. To be efficient, of course, it must be in charge of some competent, experienced and responsible person who has no disposition to avoid or neglect his responsibility. The department is now performing its office in an excellent manner. The appropriations heretofore made have had my approval, and I recommend the same appropriations for the next two years that was made two years ago.

No better use can be made of public money, to the amount reasonably necessary, than in properly caring for and preserving the archives of the State Department. It must not be assumed that there is no immediate return from this source. The index department should be credited with a fair proportion of fees earned. If not altogether self-sustaining, the consideration paid is slight compared with the benefits, present and prospective.

I desire to say, in closing, that it is due from me to my assistants, nearly all of whom have been with me during my two terms, to say that I believe they have served the public willingly and faithfully. I believe that they entered into the spirit that I desired to impress upon every one of them, from the highest to the lowest, of treating everybody who had business of any character with the department, in a kind and courteous manner; also to transact the business at the earliest possible moment. Clerks, policemen and janitors have felt it their duty to notice every one who entered the State House or the office, and inquire what they could do to serve them. Letters have been daily received, thanking the department for the promptness with which business has been attended to, seldom any papers remaining more than one day uncompleted.

There has scarcely a week passed that there has not been a gathering of some character in the State House. It having been my rule that whenever a State organization asked permission to use the halls of the Capitol, to always grant the request. The work of preparing for their reception and cleaning up after their departure devolved upon the employes of the Secretary of State, but I believe the members of all these organizations will bear witness that they were kindly received and politely treated.

I conclude my services with this department by saying that if my successor retrenches upon the expenditures of this department, the people will have good reason to say "Well done, good and faithful servant."
